

IFES' 2016 Charles T. Manatt Awards

Charles T. Manatt Democracy Awards for 2016 awardees included Nay Lin Soe, a disability rights advocate and Founder and CEO of the Myanmar Independent Living Initiative (MILI). Charles T. Manatt Democracy Awards, recognizes the exceptional work of individuals who demonstrate an unwavering commitment to freedom and democracy. IFES presents the awards annually to three individuals – one Republican, one Democrat and one member of the international community .

Myanmar's 2015 election was a historic moment for democracy in the Southeast Asian nation. Ahead of the elections, Soe's collaboration with Myanmar's Union Election Commission, government, civil society and media was critical to ushering in a new and inclusive era for Myanmar and serves as an exemplary model of how to advocate for the rights of persons with disabilities in nascent democracies. A video co-produced by Voice of America and IFES, which was played at the ceremony, explained how Soe and MILI faced immense challenges, yet achieved remarkable advances for the rights of persons with disabilities. Introducing Soe, Sweeney detailed the extensive collaboration between IFES and Soe over the years, and noted that Soe has been a regional leader in advocating for the rights of persons with disabilities and participated in several international disability movements, including the IFES-supported Association of Southeast Asian Nations General Election Network for Disability Access (AGENDA).

The Situation of People with Disabilities in Myanmar

According to the 2014 Myanmar Population and Housing Census, 4.6% of the populations (about 2.3 million) are persons with disabilities. Among them, 1.5 million, two third of the population are citizens with disability who are eligible to vote.

- In 2008 Myanmar Constitution, it states that Union shall care for mothers and children, orphans, fallen Defense Services Personnel's Children, the aged and the disabled.
- For the political and electoral participation of PwDs, there was statement in article (29) of UNCRPD in which Myanmar became member in 2011 December.
- To ensure and protect the rights of PwDs in Myanmar, there was a statement in Chapter (8) – Myanmar Disability Rights Law (2015) and also in Chapter (6) – Myanmar Disability Rights By-law (2017).

Background Situation on Political and Electoral Participation of PwDs in Myanmar

Disability movements are stronger and stronger after Nargis cyclone in 2008 with the collaboration movement of disabled people organizations and INGOs in Myanmar. But these movements are initial progress of Health, Education, Business, Job Opportunities and Rehabilitation of PwDs in Myanmar but in other sectors.

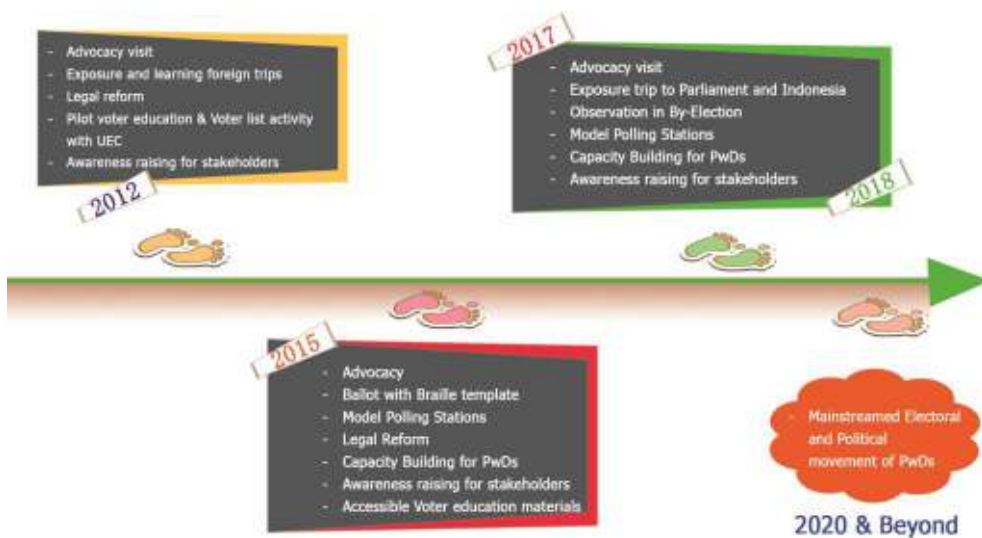

As Persons with Disabilities are citizens of Myanmar and they need to involve in multi-sector development and the issue is the main one which related to all society jut not to Ministry of Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement, Ministry of Health and other non-private and charity organizations.

In along with the movement towards a country with justice, equality and inclusive democratic nation and transition period of Myanmar, citizens with disabilities and their organization acknowledged the participation of diversity groups in mainstreamed movement in all development sectors. Moreover, it is visible that disability inclusive elections and legal reform process are much more potential for the achievement of our goals rather than development movements.

Hence, Myanmar Independent Living Initiative (MILI), started to involved in political and electoral participation of PwDs in 2012 By-Election, 2015 General Election, 2017 & 2018 By-Elections to promote the rights to vote, rights to be elected, accessible polling stations, law, strategic plan and policies, capacity building for PwDs. And these efforts acknowledged MILI as very first DOP who involved in electoral and political process.

MILI's Achievement on Political and Electoral Journey (2012- Present)

It is amazing to see that voters with visual impairments are voting independently in 2017 by-election (Monywa). I found UEC prepared the accessible election so that voters with visual impairment can use Braille ballot template and vote independently in secret. It is not happening yet even in some countries. I am very satisfied to see the progress here”

U Kyi, Voter with visual impairment cast his vote on Election day (2017)

I have voted in 2015 general election. It is more convenient for me to vote in 2017 by-election because the polling station is closer to my place. I decided whom I should vote in through accessing the information from the radio although I haven't experienced the election campaign of a candidate. I could vote independently in secret using Braille template without bringing my personal assistant. I do expect the candidate who won the election will do something for better quality of lives of persons with visual impairment."

Union Election Commission and Special Award for International Day of PwDs

Every 3rd December, we celebrate international day of PwDs (IDPD) to raise awareness on rights and inclusion of PwDs. In Myanmar, Ministry of Social Welfare, Relief and Resettlement awarded some stakeholders who put their strong effort to make inclusiveness of PwDs in their respective fields. In 2017, there were 4 awards.

- 1) Outstanding award on the rights of PwDs
- 2) Special award for IDD day
- 3) Outstanding award on the employment of PwDs
- 4) Award for media inclusiveness. Among them, Union Election Commission got special award for IDD day (2017) for their effort and implementation on inclusive election processes together with DPOs in Myanmar since 2012 until now.
